

Climate Journalism Project Manager (f/m/x)

75%-80% | starting date: 1 June 22 | limited to two years, extension intended | apply by 18 April 22

The European journalist network n-ost is looking for new colleagues to implement two climate projects in the Western Balkans region and the Eastern Partnership (ARM, AZE, BLR, GEO, UKR, MDL) countries. In close cooperation with the staff of our Berlin office as well as with the partner organizations in the two target regions, you will contribute to the promotion of high-quality, independent online journalism as well as to raising awareness on the issue of climate change.

Preferred (but not mandatory) place of work is Berlin. The availability for live meetings in Berlin at regular intervals is required.

YOUR TASKS

- Communication and cooperation with international project partners and participants
- Systematic development of international journalistic networks on the topic of climate change
- Planning and implementation of project activities (thematic discussion events, workshops and public events (online/offline), journalistic cross-border small projects)
- Administrative support of the project including financial management and reporting
- Quality assurance of individual project measures and the project as a whole
- Fundraising for co-financing and follow-up project(s).

YOUR IDEAL PROFILE

- Journalistic background
- Expertise on the topic of "Climate Change"
- Experience in the implementation of international projects
- Experience in international networking
- Experience in applying for and managing public funds (accounting, reporting), ideally BMZ project experience
- Extensive knowledge of (one of) the two target regions
- Language skills: fluent EN mandatory; Serbo-Croatian or Russian desirable; German is an asset

WE OFFER

- An exciting, journalistic and media-political working environment in a media network
- cooperation in an international team
- the opportunity to help shape a project
- the opportunity to work with a great scope of personal responsibilities
- varied everyday life in an NGO
- employment subject to social security contributions with appropriate remuneration.

ABOUT US

n-ost is a European media network specializing in cross-border cooperation. The focus of our work is on Eastern Europe, the South Caucasus and Central Asia. As a media NGO, n-ost implements projects that serve to network and support media professionals, promote quality journalism and strengthen media literacy. In times without Corona, around 20 staff members work at our office in Berlin-Kreuzberg.

If you have any questions, please contact Anneke Hudalla: hudalla@n-ost.org We look forward to receiving your application (CV and motivation letter) including your salary expectations and earliest starting date by 18 April 2022 HERE. Interviews will be held online, probably on 28 and 29 April 2022.